

KOSTAS PATSIOTIS

Doublebass player, composer, educator

Kostas Patsiotis was born in 1989 in Athens. He started playing electric bass at the age of thirteen. At the same time he was studying music theory in Ilion Music High-school and at eighteen years old he was accepted in the Music Department of Ionian University.

There he entered the Jazz Program and gradually started bass lessons with accomplished double-bass teachers from Greece and abroad (Giorgos Georgiadis, Periklis Trivolis, Petros Klampanis, Manos Loutas, Olivier Gatto, Mark Abrams).

He was a participant and scholar at the “Summer Jazz Academy“ 2009-2010, a program sponsored by Ionian University.

He also participated at the 2nd IASJ Jazz Education Conference in 2010 in Corfu and at the 23rd IASJ Jazz Meeting 2013 in Denmark.

He has attended seminars with: Karlheinz Miklin, Armen Donelian, Brent Sandy, Gilad Hekselman, Dimos Dimitriadis, Dave Liebman.

He has collaborated with Greek and International Jazz musicians such as: Giorgos Kontrafouris, Giorgos Krommudas, Alexandros Ktistakis, Nikolas Anadolis, Katerina Polemi, Stathis Anninos, Gregor Huebner, JD Walter, Maurice El Medioni, Diminuita Swing Trio, and more.

From 2014 has been teaching the doublebass at the Music High Schools of Ilion, Athens and Pallinis.

In December of 2022 he started his own quartet with original music and released his first single called “Unexpected Invention”.
